FOREWORD . . .

Dances, homework, wins, losses, friends, strangers, buses, halls, teachers, trees, library . . .
all these and one thousand other things make up our school. With the representative examples photographed and described herein, the PEERAGE Staff has endeavored to distill the essence of Princess Anne and set it before you. Since each student has a different total-image of his Alma Mater and each derives a different set of benefits from her, the true spirit of Princess Anne is "a spirit providing for all."
With this in mind examine, enjoy, and cherish your 1962 PEERAGE.

We express ourselves through many media but perhaps most successfully through music, for this is the language that knows no geographical boundaries. These students gather before school each morning for a brief rehearsal with Mr. Graves, choral director.

Art opens a limitless realm of expression for the individual. Students may create in various materials and forms according to their talents and abilities. This study contributes both to one's own expression of values and to one's appreciation of the work of others.

things to write to you and I miss you.

*A setting so lovely, we'll never forget . . . a challenge and the tools for its fulfillment . . .
quiet seclusion for study and concentration . . .*

Come one, come all, to an early morning pep rally! This is a typical scene on the Princess Anne campus every Thursday and Friday morning.

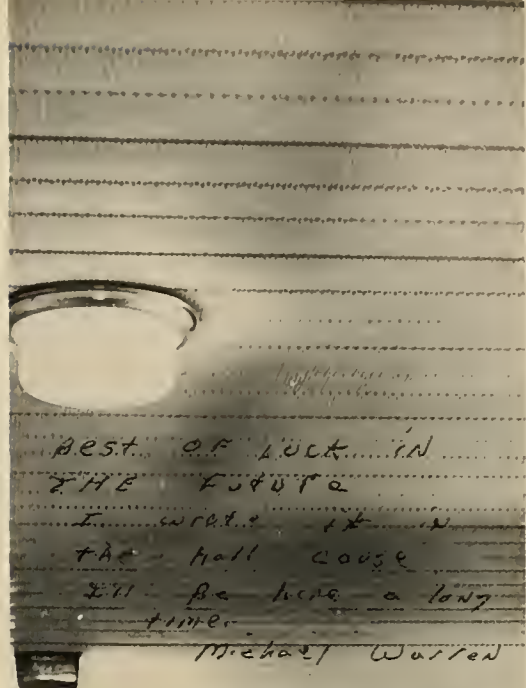

Friendships . . . Excitement.

Standing empty and solemn during the summer vacation, Princess Anne vibrates with life as its doors open for another school year. During the summer students respond to the beckoning sand and surf—and sun and fun. But with the reddening of the first fall leaves, the students return to tile and brick—study and organization. For this is the heart of student living.

Princess Anne willingly assumes the role of Alma Mater. Her maternal nature becomes ever more apparent as the students seek the advice and encouragement of an interested faculty and administration. Past the facade of each office, student needs and problems are met and reckoned with, information and encouragement are given, guidance and counseling take place.

Many of us will enter the business world after graduation. Commercial classes give us the necessary preparation.

One could liken the school to a modern factory, for, in essence, it must mass produce good minds. The task is not easy. The home with a tutor is a bygone, replaced by large edifices for the education of many. The corridors become a network of arteries leading the way to specialized instruction and assistance, to books and materials, to career planning and citizenship building.

The school must mass produce good citizens. Within the framework of each learning situation the student is taught to evaluate with discrimination, to set standards and values with caution, to respect with admiration — to listen, to speak, to think, and to document thoughtfully and carefully.

Citizens of tomorrow, leaders of the future, pulse of the nation — cliches to be sure — yet still these are the epithets of today's youth. But the pulse of Princess Anne is strong for its students are active. Sports, clubs, and other extra-curricular activities thrive on student participation and leadership. Our youth will not be mediocre citizens, for they are learning to discuss intelligently, to think critically, and to act rationally.

Through clubs and organizations qualities of leadership and co-operation are developed.

Participation in a team sport necessitates the forgetting of one's own identity, for the team must function as a whole in body and in spirit.

Time is forgotten as the music of VPI's Southern Colonels invites dancing and dreaming. Nineteen Sixty-one marked the end of the Junior-Senior proms. A new precedent was set this year with the emergence of the Senior Prom.

Many friendships and activities are remembered as these students look at and read our school publications — the PEERAGE and the PAGE.

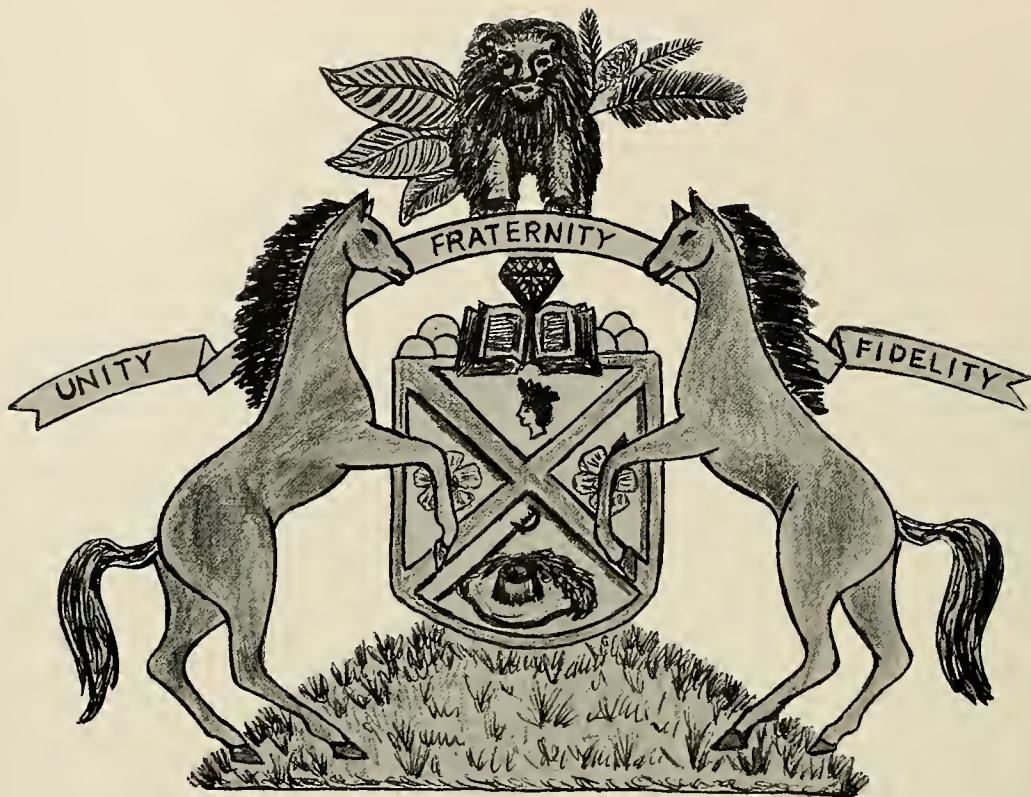

to socialize and meet friends . . .

There is nothing like a little fresh air after lunch.

After observing a panoramic view of Princess Anne, we can proudly acclaim her provisions for Americanism, individualism, and enthusiasm in every facet of the student's education.

DEDICATION

As the original "Peerage" is a listing of English nobility dating back many centuries, containing the names of the most important figures in the history of England, the Princess Anne PEERAGE is a permanent record through the years of our students and our events. The accomplishments of our predecessors have made us proud. Our own attainments have given us joy, and the promise of our followers strengthens our faith. To Princess Anne's own "Peerage" — past, present, and future — we dedicate this book. It is our hope that in these pages you will find an exemplification of the true spirit of Princess Anne: the vital, pulsing heartbeat of an active, progressive school.

CLASSES

Senior Class of 1962

Senior year is the apogee of high school life. For twelve years, and sometimes more, we have struggled to reach this status. Special activities such as receiving class rings, producing a class play, attending the Senior Prom, and finally being graduated set this year apart from the rest.

Many who were freshmen with us have left Princess Anne. Some of these are remembered. Others have slipped out of our memories. New students joined us and filled the vacancies to overflowing. Together we have studied, worked, and played and felt the slow approach of maturity.

Now, graduation is here. Some of us are eager, others are almost reluctant to leave high school where so much has transpired. What lies ahead is already outlined for many of us, but even so the fulfillment of plans is vague. For who can fathom college or the work-a-day world. Previously we have known these things only vicariously; now we shall experience them first hand, relying on the things we have learned.

Graduation is thought of as an end. Commencement, though, reminds us that receiving diplomas is a beginning. Our venture into the larger world of adult years lies ahead. Each individual faces this world alone. Learning is a continual process. We acquire knowledge in order to achieve wisdom, and schooling is a means to this end.

In retrospect, we see that life has offered much already, but the greatest opportunities are before us. With a glance over our shoulders at the past, we step forward to face the future, to meet the challenge of living enriching lives independently.

A hilarious and memorable highlight of the senior English student's year was this excerpt from Henry VIII.

Seniors studying in the library?

THE JUNIOR CLASS

Our Junior year marks a period of change in tradition and custom in the history of Princess Anne. Boldly we have met and accepted these changes even though it sometimes meant postponing the fulfillment of a dream. The events of this year remain in our memories, vividly restating the high points of an unforgettable year.

Many furiously lamented the loss of the long-awaited Junior-Senior Prom; but we realized the necessity for its end. Anxiously we now look forward to our Senior Prom.

The highlight of our Junior year was the receiving of class rings. The members of our class were the first to receive their rings as Juniors.

Soon we shall be mighty Seniors—the last rung in the high school ladder. We look forward with eagerness to our last year, but not without a backward glance on our wonderful Junior year.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

Sophomore year is usually thought of as the second year in high school. For those of us who attended Princess Anne last year this has been the second; but many of us were new to PA in September, having completed our freshman year at Kempsville Junior High.

The Class of '64 numbers approximately 1,000. Getting to know each other and developing a sense of class unity has not been easy. It has been fun though and in the two years ahead of us, we shall grow in spirit as a class.

We look forward to being juniors. Added responsibilities and an increase in activities are a challenge to us. We have absorbed the essence of the Cavalier spirit. Now it is our job to carry this spirit forward and to set an example for those who follow us.

ACTIVITIES

S. C. A.'ers contemplate a particular proposal's value to the students they represent.

STUDENT COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

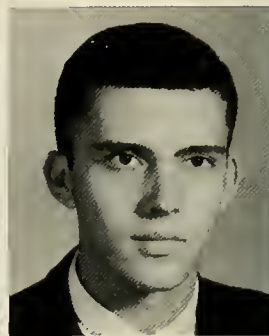

Highlighting the accomplishments of the Student Cooperative Association this year is the acquisition of a foreign student to attend PA next year. Under the supervision of Mr. E. E. Cox, the SCA has also taken over the responsibility of hall duty and has nominated a candidate for state SCA office. The Inter-Club Council, a counterpart of the SCA, staged the memorable, if slightly damp, Homecoming. Another SCA counterpart, the School Spirit Committee has worked hard selling basketball programs, arranging pep rallies, sponsoring bus caravans to games, and publicizing school activities. Through the Honor Court, the SCA has maintained at PA a standard of integrity matched by few other schools.

Added to the list of SCA officers this year is that of historian. A complete scrap book will be kept of all school activities, so that future students may know of the many achievements of the Class of '62.

Scholarship, leadership, service, and integrity lead the student to the highest distinction attainable at Princess Anne. No greater honor or joy can the student know than the gentle tap of the gavel ushering him into the National Honor Society. Its members finish their senior year as the standards of excellence in all ways and are, together, the soul of the Senior Class and America's future.

Membership in the National Beta Club signifies recognition of scholastic achievement and character development. Students may apply for membership in the beginning of their junior and senior years. They are screened for leadership qualities, attitude, academic success and character. Members merit a gold diploma seal at graduation.

Daily the sounds of busy students hard at work issue from the annual room. Dedicated to the publication of the Princess Anne PEERAGE, these staff members spend many hours identifying pictures, selling ads, and writing copy, in order to meet deadlines. Amid the flurry of school activities this group strives diligently to record the spirit of our Alma Mater.

This organization provides for other phases of our school life too. One of the outstanding accomplishments of our staff is the production of Princess Anne's annual variety show, "Cavalier Capers."

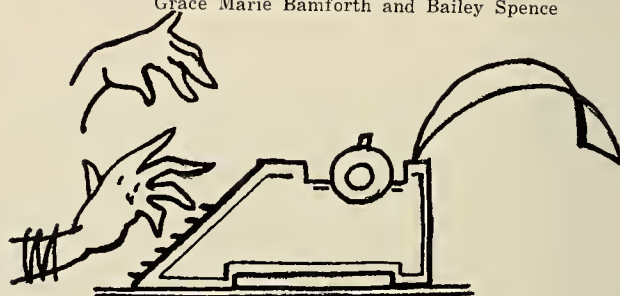

As photographers snap candid shots or as the students solemnly pose for class pictures, the effects of their projects and whims are felt throughout our campus.

The efforts of these many individuals are represented in the finished PEERAGE, a collection of memories from the past for the years ahead.

Roaming reporters gather news from anyone who will stop and talk.

Collecting Valentine greetings at a dime apiece, these reporters are helping to promote student interest in the paper.

Before the stories can go to the typist, much work must be done. Here students copyread, edit, and headline the articles.

Madly, and somewhat haphazardly folding papers for distribution to the classes, these reporters can't resist a peak at the new issue.

Planning ahead for the next issue of the PAGE are these of the journalism class.

Striving to increase student interest in the paper and to clear up the debt accumulated over the years, the PAGE staff has sold Cavalier bumper tags, space in the paper for student birthday greetings, and plastic covers for the PEER-AGE.

Another innovation has been the CAVALIER FOLIO, Princess Anne's new literary magazine. The FOLIO, a bi-annual publication, will contain art work and written material submitted by Princess Anne students.

Chief editors Nancy Ackiss and Roger Provo discuss plans for their next issue with advisor Miss Faison.

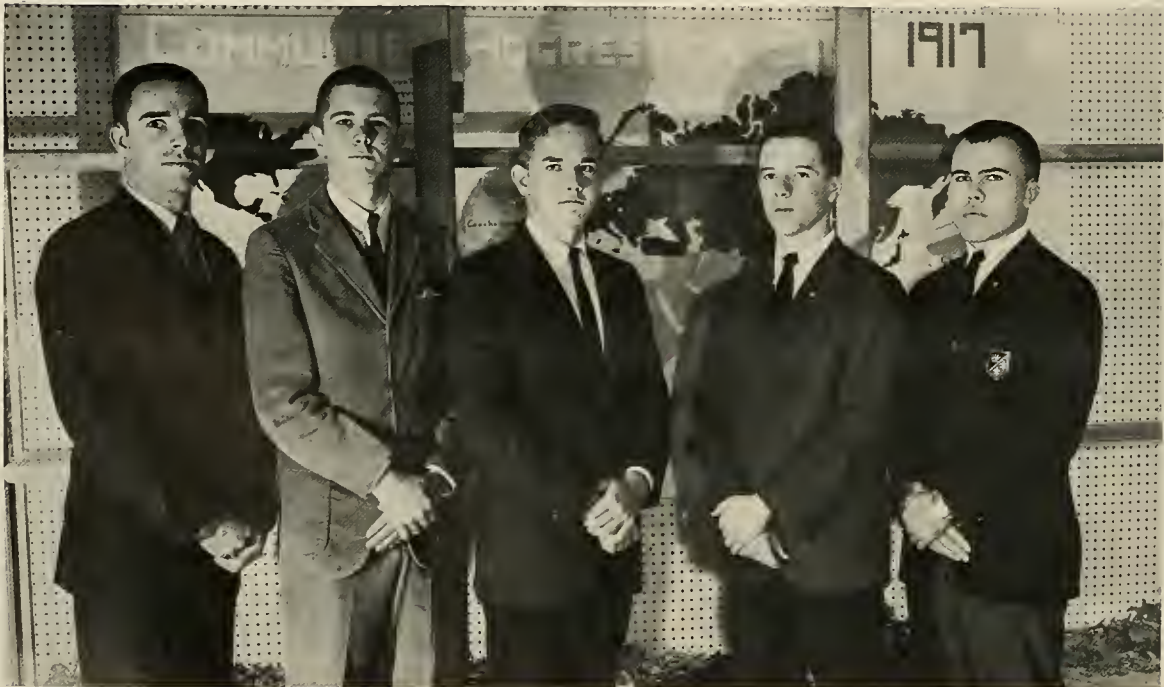

The Key Club consists of those young men of Princess Anne who are seriously concerned with current problems and who show the highest caliber of intelligence and character. This year has seen its "Anti-Communism" project unite the school in a single purpose. Other activities include gift of fifty-star flags to every room in school, a new edition of the student directory published under the Key Club's supervision, two banquets held in honor of the Kiwanis Club and the faculty, a scholarship awarded to a senior, and a collection of funds for a crippled children's home.

These achievements speak for the Key Club, Princess Anne's repository of young men whose poise, discretion, ability, tact, and purpose will always stamp them as gentlemen.

O.K. guys, let's flip to see who has to sell the 300 cans of left-over peanuts!

Key Club officers are, left to right, Tim Barrow, secretary; Chuck Sherman, treasurer; David Etheridge, vice-president; Reid Ervin, senior board member; and Kenny Spitzer, president.

What's the matter, Forrest, isn't her number in the Key Club directory?

Would you believe it, these boys are Key Club members!?

KEYETTE CLUB

Sponsored by the Ki-Wives and sister to the Key Club, the Keyette Club's main objective is to be of service to the school and the community. That they have met with great success this year is evidenced by their many activities. High point among these is the Miss Princess Anne Contest held in February. Their national project this year is the collection of donations for UNICEF.

retary; Sandra Oliver, treasurer; Marilyn Anderson, chaplain; Gail Morgan, historian; Marie Lanspery, reporter. Missing from picture, Connie Trueblood, parliamentarian.

Keyette underclassmen view with apprehension the task that lies before them—filling the places of their venerable elder members.

These are the senior members of the Keyette Club, who can review with pride the attainments of their organization.

Proudly "sporting" their athletic letters are the Varsity Club members. Outstanding in athletic as well as scholastic activities, these boys have proved their prowess in football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, golf, and wrestling. The club is responsible for the concessions sold at all basketball games and for the Homecoming Court float. They also sponsor the Geek Week Dance, the climax of this fun-filled week in March.

CHORUS

Music is a universal medium of expression. All men everywhere respond to the loveliness of voices lifted in song.

Princess Anne is proud of all its choral groups. The students practice long and hard with their director, Mr. Clark Graves, to achieve the esthetic qualities perceived by the listeners ear. The excellence of their "sound of music" is acclaimed by many throughout the Tidewater area.

Beautiful sounds issue from these mouths—the A Cappella Choir.

The Princess Anne Madrigal singers spent a merry Christmas in Florida.

This year Mr. Graves and the Madrigal singers were invited to spend the major part of the Christmas holidays giving concerts in Florida. The participants had a wonderful time and their music was well received.

Annually the choral groups provide the backbone for the Princess Anne Ruritan Club minstrel. School concerts and performances for many civic organizations keep the choruses busy increasing their repertoire of various kinds of music.

"A pretty girl is like a melody," and thus we have the melodic Girls' Chorus.

PA BAND

Marching through intricate routines, keeping in time to a rhythmic melody, led by a squad of high-stepping majorettes, the Princess Anne High School Band has entered the hearts of all who speculate. Again at concerts, at baccalaureate, and at graduation, the band has become the backbone of the ceremonies.

This year the Princess Anne Band was host for the All-State Band.

PEP CLUB

Only the enthusiasm of the throngs watching can urge a team to victory. When the players become aware of the rising spirit of the crowd, they put forth their best effort for their team and their school. It is the sole purpose of the Pep Club to help bring about this enthusiasm. Through their many posters, cheering sections, and extensive work, they have increased the spirit at Princess Anne.

DRILL TEAM

The Drill Team is an impressive sight, marching in column, rank, circle, and oval. These girls practice long and hard in order to perform well for football games and parades. Their efforts have proved worthwhile as evidenced by their performance in competition.

Grouped around their captain, Karen Felts are the Drill Team officers. Left to right: Sissy Girard, squad IV leader; Helen Estes, squad I leader; Florence Brown, squad II leader, Bette Whitehead, secretary-treasurer; and Florence Reese, squad III leader. Missing from picture, Dorothy Greenwood, co-captain.

This should be an interesting game . . . one table, eight girls, no ping, no pong!

GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

In trying to improve mental ability by improving physical fitness, the G.A.A. has set for itself a difficult goal. That they have met with great success in attaining this goal is evidenced by the increased participation in intramural sports and in the "Powder Puff" football game. These G.A.A. sponsored activities have been enthusiastically supported by the student body and have brought well deserved acclaim to the club.

The Art Club stimulates interest in art through observation of the techniques of painting, sculpturing, and sketching.

The results of practicing these techniques can be seen in the displays outside the library. Another project of the club is the presentation of a mosaic plaque to the Senior Class during graduation week. In a world of scientific data and statistics, these talented members are providing a welcome touch of beauty.

DRAMATICS CLUB

"There's no business like show business" describes the feelings of the members of the P.A. Drama Club. Learning, not only techniques of acting, but techniques of scenery and costume design, of direction, and of production, these members have entered the exciting world of theatre. And they love every minute of it. So do the rest of the students, for they are often called into service as a practice audience and can enjoy the club's efforts.

JUNIOR CIVITAN CLUB

New to Princess Anne this year is the Junior Civitan Club, a service organization sponsored by the Virginia Beach Civitan Club. Based on the Golden Rule, this club tries, through its various activities, to interest others in building better citizenship, in the home, in the school, and in the community. Club activities include the annual sale of fruitcake and the donation of baskets of food to needy families and of toys to a school for the retarded. Membership in the club is by invitation only.

SPANISH CLUB

Como esta usted? If you're in the Spanish Club, you know what that means. That and lots of other interesting expressions which come in handy when you meet your Spanish teacher in the hall. But the Spanish Club does not meet just to practice Spanish. Under the supervision of Miss Margaret Moffatt, these Spanish enthusiasts learn about the customs, culture, and history of Spanish countries. The better understanding resulting from these studies leads to better relations between the two countries.

At Christmas time, La Pinata gives up its treasure of candy and gifts.

Parlez-vous francais? These French Club members sure do!

FRENCH HONOR SOCIETY

A better understanding of the French civilization is the aim of the members of the French Honor Society. Like so many others they have come under the spell of the Gallic culture and sense the resplendent heritage America has from France. They would be among the first to agree that "Every man has two countries—his own and France."

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club's purpose is to introduce the student to the areas of classical mythology, literature, and life not touched upon in the classroom. The most interesting program was presented by a minister trained in the classics who discussed the suppression and spread of Christianity in Imperial Rome. Most of the members subscribe to the club's magazine which is printed entirely in Latin.

DEBATE COUNCIL

FORENSICS

Receiving recognition for their achievements are these talented P.A. students. Brenda Koon, a junior, has brought honors to her Alma Mater by winning first place in the state poetry-reading contest.

Princess Anne can certainly be proud of the eight top students comprising the Scholastic Team this year. As formidable a collection of brains can scarcely be found.

Debating the topic, "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Equalize Educational Opportunities by Means of Grants to the Elementary and Secondary Schools," the Debate Council has taken honors on the state and local levels.

FUTURE FARMERS

Through the FFA, boys interested in agriculture can come closer to achieving their goal. New methods have greatly reduced the amount of labor involved in farming, but it is still a hard and time-consuming job. Supplying our nation's food will be the responsibility of boys like these. It is through organizations like the FFA that they develop the skill necessary to accept this responsibility.

As future farmers these boys seek to gain the skills and knowledge that will enable them to excell in their chosen profession.

BIBLE CLUB

The Bible Club aims to make the Bible an integral part of each student's life. This organization promotes Christian fellowship and encourages personal witnessing for Jesus Christ.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

These girls hope to combine their personal characteristics with practical methods of running an efficient home. Their membership in the FHA encourages them to develop proficiencies in cooking, cleaning, decorating, sewing, and child care. These skills will be invaluable in their future careers as wives and mothers.

The members of the FTA look forward to the day when they will be able to instruct their own classes. They realize that much study and preparation will be required of them to attain this worthwhile goal. Through membership in the FTA these students hope to gain knowledge and practical experience of teaching. This knowledge will prove invaluable in their future careers as teachers.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club, while comparatively new at Princess Anne, enjoyed a fine year. The team which the club sponsors plays both scholastically and in the Eastern Virginia Chess League. It had an undefeated season in scholastic competition, and participated in the final competition for the Eastern Virginia League.

Chess Club members show their devotion by standing in the Homecoming rain.

Excitement mounts as a checkmate becomes inevitable.

FUTURE NURSES

Working toward a possible career in medicine, members of the Future Nurses Club practice methods of bedside and rural nursing. Popular at meetings are the roundtable discussions of the various fields of nursing, such as nursing the disabled, assisting at operations, or teaching other prospective nurses. Through the club's manifold activities, including volunteer work at DePaul and Norfolk General, its members are learning more of this Florence Nightingale-inspired career.

All students enrolled in Distributive Education are eligible for membership in the D.E. Club. Through club activities they learn about different parts of the distributive field . . . retail, service, or wholesale business. They continue their class room study of human relations, stock keeping, merchandise selling, and advertising, all the while, receiving on the job training.

The experience gained through participation in club projects will be invaluable to them in their careers. Upon leaving the club, graduating members have already traveled a good distance along the road to success.

Co-ordinating the activities of P.A.'s numerous Hi-Y's and Tri-Hi-Y's, the Hi-Y Tri-Hi-Y Council works to create better relationships among its member organizations. The high point of its activities is the annual Candy Cane Ball, held just before the Christmas holidays. Through the council, each Hi-Y or Tri-Hi-Y can learn new ideas for projects and new methods of organization. All can benefit from being able to work together amicably.

Everyone has a wonderful time at the Candy Cane Ball. This dance sponsored by the Hi-Y Tri-Hi-Y Council highlighted the Christmas activities of 1961.

TRINITY TRI-HI-Y

Working together to achieve the goals set forth by Tri-Hi-Y clubs, has been Trinity's constant endeavor. Service projects have included making scrapbooks for children who were hospitalized, selling programs and confetti at the first football game, and a list of other projects for home, school, and community. Each girl through her interest and work has made Trinity an active and worthwhile organization at Princess Anne.

President Marlene Armour offers a suggestion to committee chairman Diane Rainier.

Busy hands make posters for the Candy Cane Ball and prepare blessings to be placed on the cafeteria tables, adding two more service projects to Trinity's long list.

SCEPTER TRI-HI-Y

As a scepter is a symbol of authority, Scepter Tri-Hi-Y is a symbol of prestige in our school and our community. The sponsoring of a welfare family at Christmas and a "Favorite Teacher Contest" were two of Scepter's outstanding projects this year. Success in projects and the benevolence gained from welfare work contribute to these girls' confidence and social consciousness.

Throughout the past year, the activities of Theta have evidenced its members' concern for the improvement of our school and of the community. Theta has kept the girls rest rooms at PA supplied with soap during the past few months. A community project involved the collection of old sheets for the Cancer Society. These projects have not only benefitted Princess Anne, but they have also created lasting friendships among the members of this Tri-Hi-Y.

ATHENA TRI-HI-Y

QUO VADIS TRI-HI-Y

The striving to promote high standards of Christian character throughout the home, school, and community has been the outstanding characteristic of Quo Vadis Tri-Hi-Y. This Tri-Hi-Y's concern for our community was evidenced in their projects of collecting stamps for Veterans, carolling at the T.B. Hospital, and giving a Valentine's party for children at St. Mary's Hospital.

SIGMA

Sigma Phi members wait expectantly for the meeting to begin.

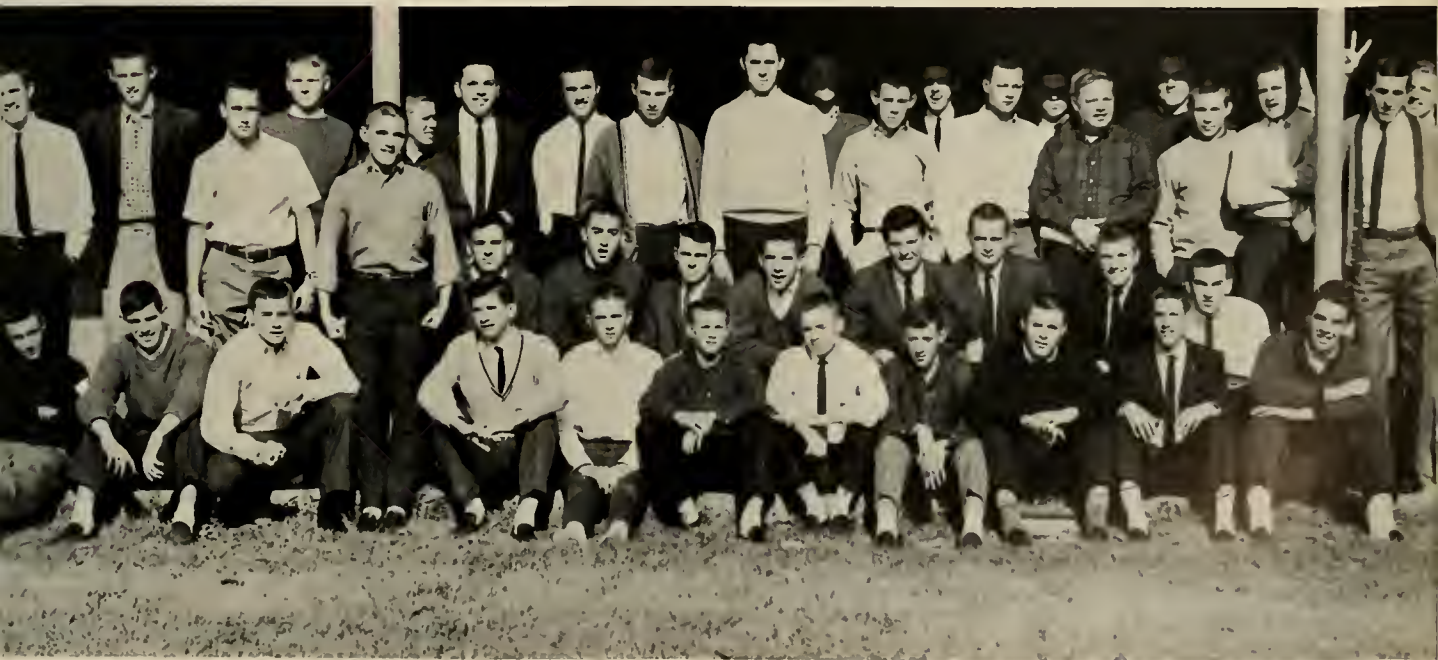

The young men in Sigma Phi Hi-Y represent the ideals of character development and spiritual life to which they aspire. During the past year these members have sponsored a "Keep the Cafeteria Clean" project and have helped the needy in our community through contributions. Representatives from Sigma Phi were delegates to Model General Assembly and the District Conference. Still these workers found the time to wash the classroom blackboards, prepare a float for Homecoming which won second prize, and attend church together each month.

Hearty support of our honor system and of the School Spirit Committee characterize the efforts of Semper Paratus this year. Always on the lookout for ways to improve our school, these boys have been outstanding in their service to PA. Popular with the students was the sale of antenna flags, a very successful project for the club. Displaying brawn as well as brains, the club tied in a tug-of-war held earlier this year with another Hi-Y.

VARSITY

Autumn 1961 marked the best football season for Princess Anne since the Cavaliers met their first gridiron opponents in 1954. After losing the first two games, our team went on to win the last eight of the season. We are proud of our team and of the staff who coached them. Their fine record speaks for itself.

Interest in high school wrestling builds each year as more boys come out, competition gets keener, and the team's following increases. This year we had two Eastern District champions, and a state finalist.

"You feel okay, Mac?"

Staylor has his opponent in a predicament—to say the least.

What has two heads, four arms, and three legs?

Tom Harris braces himself as he pins this Churchland Trucker.

Coach Butler strikes a prayerful pose as he thinks up new strategy.

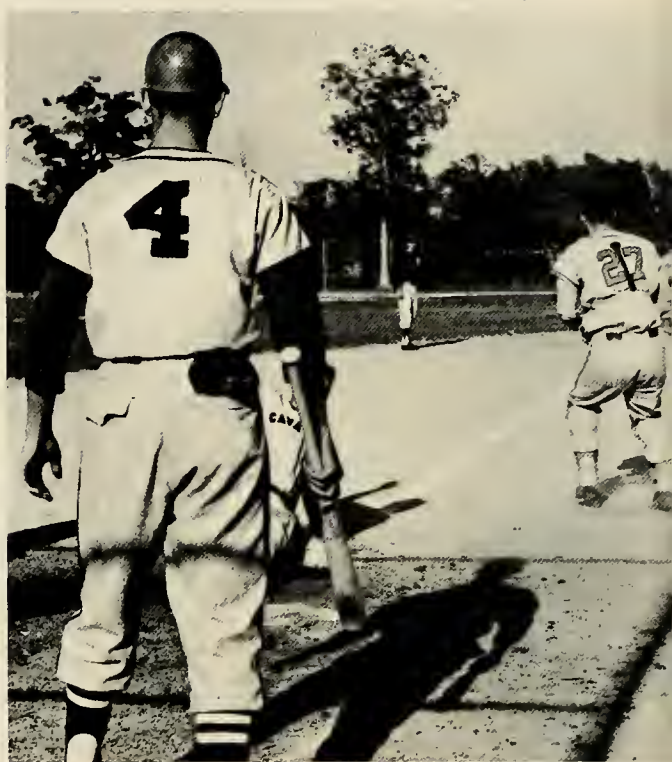

Do you have that tired, rundown feeling?

Charlie Carr, Cavalier batter, and Pete Register, Churchland catcher, await the pitch.

A slide at home plate is always a crucial point in the game. This one looks safe for the Cavaliers.

BASEBALL

The baseball season of '61 was a successful one for the Cavaliers as illustrated by the team record.

TENNIS

For elegance of motion, tennis has reigned supreme among gentlemen in sports since it was first played in the sunny courtyards of Egypt. Princess Anne follows the graceful tradition of generations of players and tennis is played with the serene intensity that makes it a varsity sport.

Through the net we see Bill Shields preparing for Allen Whichard's swift return.

Intent on the game, Brian Brinkley makes a powerful serve.

GOLF

Golf is truly an individual sport, one that can be played for many years after leaving high school. While most other sports require speed, golf requires time and patience. Each year more boys come out for this sport.

Coach Braun demonstrates for Mel Leonard a golfing technique as Bob Lane looks on.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

TRACK

Thirteen separate events make up the most individualistic sport in the school's curriculum. Proficiency in any one of these events requires constant exercise and conditioning.

Often there are only a few spectators which is disappointing to the participants, but their personal satisfaction is great.

"It's only ten miles—a little practice never hurt any one."

It seems that track participants practice all year round.

Coronet Tri-Hi-Y "cages a tiger" and captures first place in the float contest. Ann Aaron is the attractive Cavalier.

Autumn's most colossal football celebration was to have been the Homecoming Weekend. With grandiose plans formed and spirits running high, catastrophe occurred. The heavens crackled with electricity and ominous clouds hovered over Cox Stadium as the band and drill team performed. In still darker climate, the cavalcade of elaborately festooned floats prepared by most of the school's clubs formed its train about the track. It had scarcely finished its first circuit when the rains poured down upon the helpless spectators. Thousands of people trapped in the stands streamed toward the parking lots.

As if one reminder of this destruction was not enough, the re-scheduled game for Saturday night was cancelled. Undaunted, the revellers who appeared at the long awaited Queen's Ball, celebrated the coronation of Miss Grace Marie Bamforth, Homecoming Queen, 1961-62.

The re-scheduled game and resulting victory over Oscar Smith somewhat compensated the loss of all the excitement and color of our Homecoming. However, we shall remember Homecoming 1961-62.

As Betsy says, "Hi darlings"; Laurie says, "mmm! Good"; and Susan says, "Hi you all," the Varsity Cheerleaders roll on.

HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

Braving rain and wind, Cavaliers hold high their hopes above a fallen Tiger.

A truly fine representation of club and school spirit was made by these and all participants.

The Girls Athletic Association pose in reverent homage to the tennis racket and hockey stick.

The bright smiles of the Keyette officers shine through the rain.

Brewing a cauldron of victory are these future homemakers.

These spirited future nurses are preparing to launch their oversized "hypo" in a fight against polio.

The Class of 1962 recognizes its members who are outstanding in diverse fields by election to the "Senior Hall of Fame." Fourteen categories exist to honor the handful of seniors who have achieved pre-eminent excellence in a single area of their high school life. With their manifest abilities, they shall continue with success in college and the world.

With a bright future ahead of them, the members of the 1962 Hall of Fame represent the epitome of talent in their special fields. Best wishes are extended to them by the student body and faculty.

GIRLS' AND BOYS' STATE

Bill Shield, Supreme Court Justice, discusses these office cards with Governor's Aide, John Ward, while Tim Barrow, Sheriff of Boone City, studies an official report.

Tom Edenton, Superintendent of Schools of Boone City, shows an important proposal to Stacy Garrett, Chief of Police of Washington City.

Each year a group of outstanding students is selected to attend Girls' and Boys' State where they learn the functions of the government on city, local, and state levels and become acquainted with the party system. These students, representing the best of P. A. in scholarship and in leadership, are assigned positions in the General Assembly, Executive Department, Judiciary, or local government.

"Operator, please connect us with Boys' State!"

Friendship, excitement, laughter, and various learning experiences filled one short week. Now only pleasant memories are left.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

HOMECOMING

Although our homecoming festivities were somewhat dampened, the J.V. cheerleaders kept a smile.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

Herbert Culpepper receives the "Most Valuable Player" award at the annual Football Banquet.

OUR MASCOT VICTOR

Smiling for the camera, Victor displays his pleasing personality, which enlightened our football season.

POWDER PUFF

Senior girls emerged victorious from the Powder Puff football game—15-0.

1962

CANDY CANE BALL

The annual Candy Cane Ball highlighted the Christmas holidays.

RUITAN BOWL

Marlene Armour reigned as queen of the 1962 Ruitan Bowl.

MISS PRINCESS ANNE CONTEST

Susan Tobits, Miss P.A. of 1961, crowns Linda Howell Miss P.A. of 1962. Nancy Ackiss, Keyette Club president, presents Linda with a bouquet of roses.

SENIOR PROM

The unforgettable Senior Prom was a product of many hours of hard work and planning.

GRADUATION

The Class of 1962 reviews the memory filled four years at P.A., as they prepare to take a new path into the future.

Remember, America...

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."
—Thomas Jefferson—

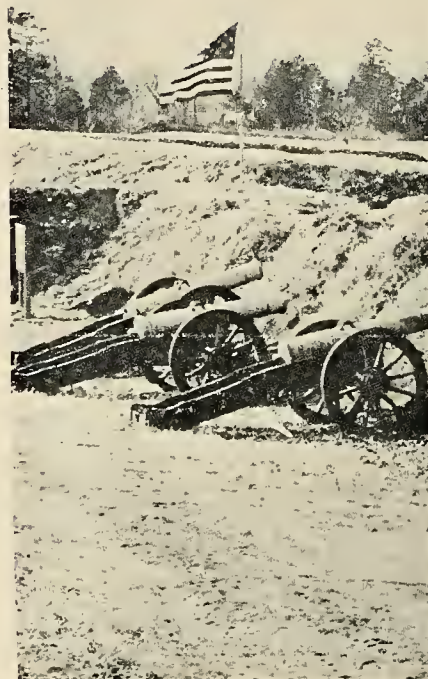

In the historic land served by Virginia Electric and Power Company, this warning is not easy to forget. On every hand, contrasted with the landmarks of this progressive, growing area, are the monuments to America's unending fight for freedom.

But freedom cannot be preserved in stone or defended by monuments. Freedom must exist in the heart of the individual. It must be championed by the living.

The freedom to build ... to create ... to grow as free individuals in a free nation is our priceless heritage from the past. Its cost is our eternal vigilance.

In Memoriam

Mr. R. H. Owen, a kindly gentleman whom many called friend, was removed suddenly by death from Princess Anne — Virginia Beach School Division on December twenty-sixth. His sense of humor had smoothed the rough places for all who knew him.

Mr. Owen's desire to serve his fellow man in any capacity has afforded the community a clear image of unselfishness to admire and emulate. All who were associated with him in education, church, and community, knew that one in need would command his attention, energy and influence until the burden was eased.

Finally, his achievements throughout his life marked the man a gentleman in its finest meaning. He disdained to climb except by lifting others, refused to stoop to selfish ways of lesser men and gave forth the courtesy and unfailing good will that seemed embedded in his soul.

from School News and Views, Princess Anne County

We thank these photographers who have not only made the annual possible but also have worked on many other school publications.

Cathy,
Here's wishing you
the best of luck in love & life.
You are one of my sweetest friends & I wouldn't trade
you for a fortune.
Keep in touch with me.

P.S. I'm naming Anna

Cathy,
You are one of the sweetest and best friends I have ever had in my life! (It's been so much fun). Remember all the crazy things we've done and keep thinking of them to do! Stay as sweet as you are now and never ever change!
For you'll always have millions of friends.
Love ya' always,
Anne

Cathy,

 So a very sweet & cute girl. It has been nice knowing you this year Kathy.
 Have a blast this summer & see you next year.
 Lots of luck

Kathy,

You are really a sweet and wonderful girl. You are a very close and dear friend. You are really the best friend I've ever had. I hope our friendship never dies. I wish you all the luck and happiness always, it anyone deserves it, you do. Always remember all our good times together. Especially my 16th date with Phillip. Be good and always remember I'm your friend until the end.

So good luck with your boy I hope you find someone who deserves you even more than I do.
 Love you
 S. Shirley
